

Recommended Kit Lists

First - The Basics

These are the base items that are required for all services. You're also quite likely to already have a few of these things at home so you might not want to buy this as a kit. Essentially we thought, rather than including these items in every kit and therefore you ending up with several of each of these items if you buy more than one, we'd keep them separate and you can start with this one and add to it depending on which modules you do.
